nce upon a time, there was a magic kingdom amidst the land of Greensborough. According to legend, this magic kingdom was given the title of Greensborough College. Great men of science, music, and the arts gathered there annually for the purpose of furthering their knowledge. The kingdom was ruled by the wise and heroic King Howard of Wilkerson and his Royal Court, Lord Medlin, the Duke of Gum, Sir Laws of Parks, and other such nobility. In the center of the kingdom, Castle Main rose high into the clouds and was such a magnificent spectacle that men traveled from all corners of the globe to behold its splendor. In an age where poverty struck many kingdoms, Greensborough College was saved by the noble efforts of the Trustees of the Round Table.

And so it was written that the kingdom be divided into seven courts, each dealing with activities which would benefit the whole kingdom. These seven courts of Greensborough College would be given portions of the kingdom's riches. When the time came for the Great Council meeting, each court ruler wanted more than his due share of the kingdom's riches. Representatives from the Black Knights of Afro-Am, the Knights of Legislature, the three Wisemen of Literary Knowledge, the Court Jester, and the Monks of the local Abby were unwilling to compromise, thus resulting in a "Seven Days War."

Because of the insolence and hostility displayed by the courts, the King and his Court decided that the entire kingdom should be punished. He put forth a decree that confined all inhabitants to their manors and prohibited all consumption of ale. The inhabitants of the kingdom sank into a state of repression and few vain attempts were made to change the laws of the land. The kingdom was no longer a Camelot, but after all, Wisemen and adults never partake of ale and even Adam and Eve could not live in Paradise.

Burrowed away amidst the creaking floor boards of the basement of Odell lies, according to legend, the remains of Mary Odell. One might witness this spectre on any rainy night, when the wind howls around the organ pipes, and there is a definite chill in the air.

A fiery demon also resides, according to legend, with Mary, whose lingering melodies prevail to this very day. The dragon disrupts unsuspecting classes and recitals by bellowing out ungodly sounds from the pits of the mysterious Austin. The dragon's recent escapade resulted in a succession of fire alarms, thus causing a brigade of fire fighting knights in shining red armor to come to the rescue.

Because it has taken years for us to assimilate the technological revolution, these spirits have had numerous occasions to cause havoc. As tradition soon comes to rest, the dragon is doomed to extinction due to the renovation of stately Odell Castle, thus leaving Mary Odell with solitary possession.

At the peak of the first full moon of each Spring, the gentlemen of Greensborough College go through a strange transition --- from gentlemen to men of less desirable character. Strange incantations and chants can be heard from the gardens of Greensborough Hall. The ladies-in-waiting then follow the pattern and begin strange dances to lure the men into their traps.

The men and women splash love lotions on each other to prepare for the ritualistic ceremony. When the preparations are completed, the celebrants begin throwing each other in the fountain of youth, which lies in front of Castle Main. After the ritual, which occurs several times throughout the Spring season, the celebrants rest peacefully, knowing that the fountain has made them pure and chaste and forever youthful.

And it came to pass that the kingdom of Greensborough College became inhabited with a group of knights who called themselves the "Lobby Rats." They were on a crusade to change the attitude of this kingdom from one of disinterest to one of concern. To stimulate the kingdom, balloons were released throughout the land. When this act failed to gain recognition, the knights traveled to a faraway land and brought back Bigfoot, whose huge purple footprints were found everywhere. After capturing the creature, the Lobby Rats decided their Holy Grail had been found and their crusade accomplished.

A Book of Ours

The May Court and Mayday activities were a long-time tradition at Greensboro College at one time. In May '76, Social Life attempted to recreate the once grandiose May celebration. Rain and exams put a small damper on the affair which attracted little interest. The May dance, however, was very successful and a welcome relief after an enduring semester.

In the Fall, Social Life sponsored "The Winter Rose Affair." The beautiful floral decorations transformed Lea Center into an elegant fantasy which enhanced the formal event. The Homecoming Dance was also sponsored by Social Life, along with several smaller dances in the Student Center.

Members of the Social Life committee attended special conferences during the year to get new ideas to improve the Social Life program at Greensboro College. Sandra McCrary, Chairman of the Social Life committee, and her committee made plans to improve the Student Center and to enact new activities and entertainment to the campus for the coming years.

Special arrangements were made with local movie theatres to let Greensboro College students see new films as a group, while Social Life paid the bill. Movies were open to all G.C. students and transportation to the theatres was usually provided. Among the films were "Jaws", "The Return of the Pink Panther", "Three Days of the Condor", "The Magic Flute", and "The Duchess and the Dirtwater Fox." Films in Cowan were still shown and they included "The Sting", "Nicholas and Alexandria", and "Buster and Billie."

An all-night "Horror Films" Festival was held Halloween night in the lower Student Center. Students, shaking under their blankets, delighted to vampires, witches, and each other.

Graduation

Commencement exercises held at Greensboro College annually are a mixture of the old and new. A very traditional graduation on front campus along with the hood ceremony is a part of the onset of a new generation into society.

Judge Elreta M. Alexander of the North Carolina District Court in Greensboro delivered the commencement address. Her topic was "The Stature of Liberty."

The establishment of three endowed professorships was announced during graduation exercises. Dr. James E. Hull was a recipient of a $100,000 gift from Jefferson-Pilot Corporation. Two gifts of $100,000 each was bequeathed from the estate of Annie Elizabeth Moore of Pittsboro to Dr. John H. Long and Dr. Ben Wilson, Jr.

Soccer

Beating cross-town rivals Guilford and UNC-G were the highlights of a season which was notably the most successful ever for a Greensboro College soccer effort. Despite the 6-5 regular season record, the Hornet soccer squad finished in a tie for second place in the conference. This is quite remarkable when one considers that up until this season, the past young soccer teams at Greensboro College had only one victory ever to their credit. Early Fall 1975 met the still young and relatively unpolished soccer squad and Coach Tim Crawford with long hot practices and eager anticipation. Experienced transfers, unexperienced rookies, and dedicated veterans took to the field, with its new practice goals, and a new surge was felt as soccer became a serious phenomenon around the Greensboro College campus. Students began to notice the "sweat-soaked", exhausted members of the team as they rushed in to the cafeteria to catch a bite of gourmet cooking each afternoon. Interested students began to question their role as a fan and larger crowds began attending the matches.

Joel Grigsby and his cheering "Hornettes" added extra incentive for team members. Unlike past seasons, team members were not plagued with numerous major injuries and a good line of substitutes were available on the sidelines.

The first match of the season ended in a 14-1 loss with Pfeiffer. Some people saw the loss as a foreshadow to a repeat of past seasons. But the optimistic soccer players were not to be discouraged. They followed the loss with a 5-3 victory over Guilford and an 8-1 victory over St. Andrews.

Following the two wins, a nip-and-tuck battle with Christopher Newport ended in a 2-3 loss for the Hornets and another close struggle over Va. Wesleyan found the Hornets again victorious (2-1).

In a match dominated by defensive play, GC managed only one score in overtime; but one was enough as the Hornets shut out NC Wesleyan 1-0. Next came the triumphant win over UNC-G (4-2). Hornet fans were ecstatic!

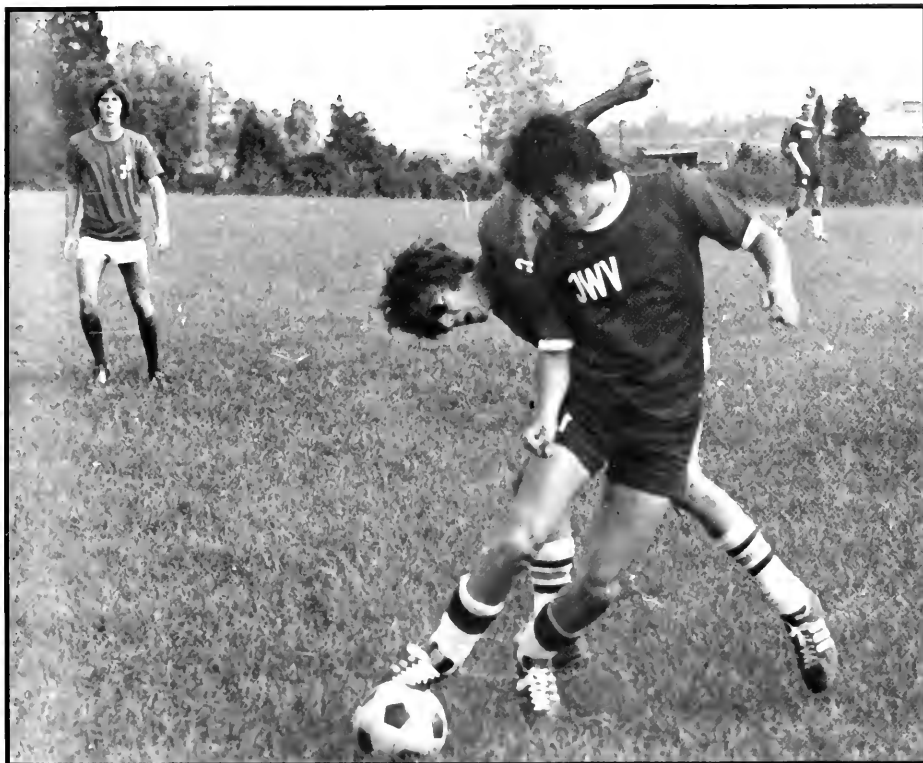

Confident that they had at long last jelled, the Hornets then faced Lynchburg. They proved to be more than GC could handle, however, as the Hornets were set back 1-8.

With only three contests left, the Hornets preceded two final losses with a victory over Methodist (2-0).

The great improvement displayed by the '75-'76 Soccer squad is astronomical. Transfer Kendrick Boden broke the school record for the most goals scored in one match. Goalie Kevin Green broke the record for most saves.

Most Valuable Player Christian King and Boden were voted to the All-Conference Soccer Squad. Boden also led the team with a season total of nine goals. Transfers Skip Davis (five goals) and Steve Gates (four goals) were also big additions to the squad.

The outlook for coming years seems to be better than ever. New transfers and freshmen coming in will aid the squad immensely. The returning soccer players have gained valuable experience from past seasons. Coach Crawford hopes for a new practice field in coming years.

The Hornets lost the last two games of their regular season to Elon (2-3) and Averette (0-1). Both games were close.

Considering the factors surrounding the Soccer program at Greensboro College, low-budgeted, relatively new, little recognized until recently, it seems a miracle that such a team could blossom so quickly. The determination of the players and coach earned them a tie for second place. This seems ample evidence that, despite acknowledged weaknesses, someone must have been doing something right.

Basketball

The Hornet basketball squad, coached by Milton Reece, recovered from a fifth place standing in the '75-'76 regular season to make a comeback as runner-up in the DIAC tournament. Highlighting the tournament, two GC players, Randy Tilley from Goldsboro and Clarence Caldwell from Fayetteville, both juniors, were voted to the All-Tournament Team. Caldwell also received an overwhelming majority of the coaches' votes, thus receiving Most Valuable Player.

Caldwell, GC's scoring wizard set a new Greensboro College scoring record with his 22nd point in the first half of the game at Methodist in the first round of the tournament. This feat was accomplished in three years whereas the previous record was set in four years. Caldwell went on to score 15 more points in the 65-63 win for Greensboro College. His 35 points in the Va. Wesleyan win (83-76) and 28 points in the final game posted a season high of 723 points. His three-year total is 1671. His 100 points in the three tournament games set another record.

The previous tournament record was set by Greg O'Steen of Greensboro College at 82 points. The previous career record had also been set by O'Steen of 1592 points for four seasons. Caldwell's season average is 557 points per year for an average of 24.1 points in 69 games.

Junior transfers Randy Tilley and Virgil O'Neal, Seniors David Skeels and Bloxton Mabry, and Caldwell were the starting five of the Hornet team. Other mainstays were Senior Rick Ballard and Junior Freddie Johnson. Stanley Edwards, Joe Alston, Ronnie Cardwell, and Jerry Wilson all look promising for the coming year.

Golf

On June 14, the 1974-75 GC golf team went to Fort Campbell, Kentucky for the NCAA Division III Golf Championships. Harry Barbin, Rick Cobb, Rich Vellucci, Kevin Green, Lee Holliday and Coach Jim Locke spent a week in Kentucky and finished 15th place in the nation.

The 75-76 team finished with a 7-4 conference record. In four non-conference tournaments, the team placed respectably. In the DIAC conference tournament, the team finished in third place. Rich Vellucci, a sophomore, was named All-Conference for the second year in a row.

Tennis

The GC tennis team ended with a 5-8 regular season record. Despite certain setbacks, the team grew during the season and won two of the last three matches beating Guilford 5-4 (who had earlier defeated the Hornets 6-3) and Averette 9-0. Other Hornet wins were from St. Andrews (6-3), Lynchburg (5-4), and Va. Wesleyan (6-3).

GC came in fifth place in the DIAC tournament.

GC's Gregg Herpst defeated top-seeded Pete West of Christopher-Newport in the finals of the Dixie Conference tennis Tournament. The score was 6-2, 2-6, 6-3. West had not lost a conference match during the season.

Aquabelles

The 1975-76 Aquabelles were led by President Linda Haber and Coach William S. Ariail.

The annual Christmas show featured choreographed numbers to such Christmas classics as "Silent Night", "White Christmas", "Do You Hear What I hear?", and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas".

The show was highlighted by a surprise visit of Dr. Wilson as Santa Claus.

The spring show featured a tribute to the American Bicentennial. Such tunes as Sousa marches, American folk songs, and other patriotic themes were used. Along with the Bicentennial theme, were dancers from Miss Willie Taylor's Folk Dancing classes. In appropriate American costumes, dancers did the Minuet, the Virginia Reel, and a modern version of the Hustle.

1976 marked the last performance by GC's nationally-ranked aquabelles Beth and Joanna Wulff. The Wulff twins performed with a magical grace and beauty that will be well-remembered at Greensboro College for a long, long time.
